DAY TRADER 2001

Ride the ups & downs of the stockmarket!

The time has come to show the world that you have what it takes to tame the stock markets and build a financial empire. After the award-winning Wall Street Trader 2000, Day Trader 2001 challenges you to bounce between the world's most important trading floors.

Juliette Fleming, the daughter of your mentor, Lord Fleming (whom you helped in the previous game), needs your help. She believes she can trust you to change her ailing fortunes - and if you end up a multimillionaire in the process, who's to complain?

- Trade on three stock exchanges London, New York and Tokyo.
- 81 stock fluctuations per day.
- Choose from scenarios focusing on 7 different kinds of events and industries.
- Network gaming up to 8 players

AIRLINE Tycoon

Divine rewards for devilish tricks managing an airline!

Tired of delayed flights, missed connections, and lost luggage? Think you could do better? Take control of an airline and see if you can make it in this cut-throat business... without making customers unhappy.

You control everything - flight planning, finances, maintenance, and even the meals and interiors on your planes. A series of missions will test your ability to keep costs down and customers up. All the while, you'll have to fend off other ruthless (albeit cute) airline owners who want only one thing - your business.

You'll be amazed by the graphics, depth, and attention to details in this game.

- High resolution graphics in 65,000 colours
- 16 missions, over 200 different routes, and 48 different airports
- Network game for up to four players

STARDOM

Your Quest for Fame

Get rich, get famous, Get some!

Stardom: Your Quest for Fame is a satirical role-playing game in the TV soap opera world. It takes sharp wits, a quick tongue, sex appeal, forcefulness and tactics to advance in this world.

You can team up with or date someone in the editorial staff.

But watch out! One lovely day you will have to choose between your career and your love life.

If you play your cards right then you may be offered the opportunity to rise through the ranks. But nothing is free.

If you scratch my back, I'll scratch yours... In Stardom: Your Quest for Fame you devote all your time to your career. During the day you collect news, challenge your co-workers and scheme. In the evenings you mingle with stars and frequent the city's trendiest places.

- 13 different occupational categories
- Question matches to challenge your opponents
- 4 departments; News, Sports, Children & Teens and Entertainment

ECONOMIC

War

Will you lead your country to victory?

Puzzled by International power games? Think that under your supervision the country could do better? Endorse the role of a democratically elected president and lead your country (France, Germany, UK & US and many more) to victory in a battle of trade, diplomacy, sabre rattling and espionage.

Develop your country's infrastructure and production capacity, research new industries whilst maintaining your popularity rating.

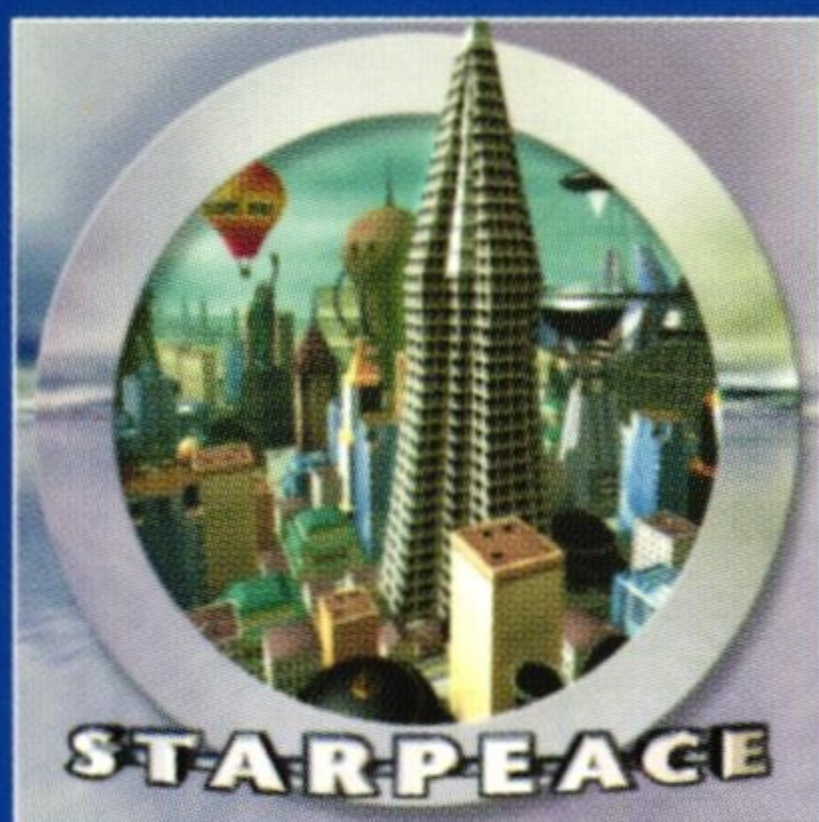

Use your diplomats to spy on other countries' leaders and blackmail them, raise or lower taxes and build factories

- 3D Isometric view with high resolution graphics in 32,000 colours
- 5 solo scenarios in which you can alternately play 3 different countries for a total of 15 different missions
- 3 multiplayer scenarios (up to 8 players online)

Please turn for STARPEACE

Play online with thousands of others in a persistent world.

The year is 2030. Leave a deeply polluted and overcrowded Earth and join a new world.

As a VIP in an earthling colony, you will receive $100.000.000 that you will have to multiply. You will be able to build more than 300 different kinds of economic facilities, from residential properties and industrial installations to office towers and TV stations.

Choose where to place your facilities, set prices, decide on marketing budgets, and make deals with other players.

Launch your political campaign for City Mayor and try to make it to the top and ultimately design the whole city by defining construction zones. Star Peace is composed of the same stuff as life. It has no end, but people come and go... and some stay forever thanks to their outstanding performance. Maybe that's the objective of the game: to go always further, where no other player has set foot before.

- Support for thousands of players online
- 24 hours a day – 7 days a week
- strong story line
- Very realistic simulation of human society
- Politics: elections, mayors, ministers
